Get “Xcited” about Bamboo with New XoticFelt™

National Nonwovens introduces the first felt made from Bamboo. Eco-friendly, soft, and strong, XoticFelt™ is the fabric of the future.

XoticFelt™ is a new 100% natural felt made from an innovative blend of bamboo and rayon. The bamboo fibers are naturally soft, strong and able to retain wonderfully vivid and diverse colors. In addition to the superior quality and luscious colors, the bamboo fibers in XoticFelt™ make it an extremely eco-friendly fabric.

“We feel strongly that products consisting of bamboo fibers will become enormously popular and we are thrilled to be the company setting this trend,” said Michalina Centofanti, Vice President Corporate Administration at National Nonwovens. “Our customers are environmentally conscious but they do not want to sacrifice quality. With XoticFelt™ they can have it all; a fabric that is both strong and soft while being eco-friendly to fit into their goals of moving towards green products.”

Bamboo is actually a grass not a tree, making it the fastest growing timber plant on earth. Thriving naturally without pesticides, bamboo has other natural benefits including its antibacterial and antifungal quality called bamboo kun. Bamboo fibers are also completely eco-friendly, making bamboo the ideal green choice for those seeking a renewable, sustainable textile.

New XoticFelt™ will capture your imagination!
