Ongu & Wuzza WoolFelt® "Sew A Softie" created by Trixi Symonds

Gossip Tidbits

Great news, Sew a Softie is back again this year for the month of July! Author, designer and teacher Trixi Symonds created Sew a Softie in 2016 after noticing that so many parents and kids were missing out on the joys that came with hand sewing. Find out more on Trixi's blog at colouredbuttons.com.

Creativity continues to spark out of Vickie Clontz of Annie's Keepsakes taking the form of another new book, Playful Place Mats published by Leisure Arts. Vickie shows how one simple shape can produce many different looks to sew for everyday enjoyment or for celebrating special days and welcoming the seasons. This new Woolly Flower Basket Wall Hanging designed by Vickie will also welcome spring! Go to www.annieskeepsakes.com.

Can you say, "Awww... cute!" Delilah Iris definitely delivers cuteness with her Unicorn pattern shown here and other felt sewing patterns for toys, dolls and more. She also has a monthly craft kit subscription gift box service. Get your cute on at delilahiris.com.

Mint Iced Tea

Ingredients

- 3 green tea bags
- 1 quart boiling water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 large lemon, sliced into 1/4-inch slices
- 1 bunch fresh mint
- 2 cups cold water

Directions

Brew tea in boiling water, letting steep for 10 minutes. Pour brewed tea into a serving pitcher. Add sugar and lemon, and swirl in the mint, holding it by the stems and using it to stir and dissolve the sugar. When sugar is dissolved, drop mint into pitcher and add 2 cups cold water. Refrigerate until thoroughly chilled. Strain mint out before serving and serve cold.
